Title:EXODUS ECHOES

Main Text: Mat 14:13-36

Sermon Description: The Exodus events of Israel’s history provide definitive covenantal imagery, concepts, and language intrinsic to the redemptive themes of scripture. Exodus 12 is a landmark chapter for the people of God declaring the significance of these events with a recalibration of the calendar, inaugural feasts, and generational commandments. Here the paschal lamb is revealed as a memorial forever. Thus, it is no surprise when one considers the Matthew narrative of Christ’s miracles that Exodus is echoed between the lines and comes alive on the page like a pixelated 3-D image brought into focus by meditation through the lens of redemptive symbolism. Is 63:7-14 is a great summary passage highlighting the timeless language of salvation’s history we see encoded in the miracles of Matthew 14.

2 HEADINGS FOR ECHOES OF EXODUS IN THE MIRACLES OF MAT 14:

1. EXODUS ECHOED IN SIGNIFICANT EVENTS:

A. Provision in the wilderness (Mat 14:13-21)

B. Passage through the waters (14:22-23)

C. Place of blessing (14:34-36)

2. EXODUS ECHOED IN SIGNIFICANT ACTS:

A. Sequence of provision (14:19-20) (Deut 6,11)

B. Outstretched arm (14:30-31) (Ex 8:5-6, 4:4, 9:8, 9:22, 14:21, 17:11) (Deut 4:34-36, 5:15, 7:19, 9:25)

C. Healing garments (34-36) (Ex 28:6-12) (Rev 7:9-17)

Conclusion: The complete picture of the relationship between covenant people, garments, and Christ is in Rev 7:9-17. Here the Exodus echo becomes an eternal reality of perfect holiness as slaves to sin are ransomed and glorified, clothed in Christ’s own blood.
